Independent Auditor's Report

Mr. C. Daniel Hassell
Acting Secretary
Pennsylvania Department of Revenue
Harrisburg, PA 17128

We have examined the accompanying statements of receipts and disbursements (Statements) of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas/Clerk of Orphans' Court, Adams County, Pennsylvania (County Officer), for the period January 1, 2004 to December 31, 2005, pursuant to the requirements of Sections 401(b) and 401(d) of The Fiscal Code, 72 P.S. § 401(b) and § 401(d). These Statements are the responsibility of the county office's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these Statements based on our examination.

Except as discussed in the fourth paragraph, our examination was conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the standards applicable to attestation engagements contained in Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. An examination includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the Statements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our examination provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

We are mandated by Sections 401(b) and 401(d) of The Fiscal Code to audit the accounts of each county officer to determine whether all moneys collected on behalf of the Commonwealth have been correctly assessed, reported and promptly remitted. Government Auditing Standards issued by the Comptroller General of the United States include attestation engagements as a separate type of audit. An attestation engagement performed pursuant to Government Auditing Standards involves additional standards that exceed the standards provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Accordingly, this attestation engagement complies with both Government Auditing Standards and Sections 401(b) and 401(d) of The Fiscal Code.

As discussed in Finding No. 2, manual receipts were missing and not available for the examination. Without these records, we could not perform our standard examination procedures. As a result, the scope of our examination of the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas' Statement was limited, and we were unable to satisfy ourselves by other examination procedures.

In our opinion, except for the effects, if any, of the matters noted in the preceding paragraph, the Statements referred to above present, in all material respects, the operations of the County Officer as it pertains to receipts made on behalf of the Commonwealth for the period ended December 31, 2005, in conformity with the criteria set forth in Note 1.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we are required to report findings of significant deficiencies in internal control, violations of provisions of contracts or grant agreements, and abuse that are material to the Statements and any fraud and illegal acts that are more than inconsequential that come to our attention during our examination. We are also required to obtain the views of management on those matters. We performed our examination to express an opinion on whether the Statements are presented in accordance with the criteria described above and not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the internal control over reporting on the Statements or on compliance and other matters; accordingly, we express no such opinions.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the County Officer's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report data reliably in accordance with the applicable criteria such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the County Officer's Statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the County Officer's internal control. We consider the deficiencies described in the findings below to be significant deficiencies in internal control over the reporting on the Statements:

- Inadequate Internal Controls Over The Bank Account - Clerk Of The Court Of Common Pleas.
- Inadequate Internal Controls Over Manual Receipts - Clerk Of The Court Of Common Pleas.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency or combination of significant deficiencies that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the Statements will not be prevented or detected by the County Officer's internal control. Our consideration of the internal control over reporting on the Statements would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be significant deficiencies and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all significant deficiencies that are also considered to be material weaknesses. We consider all the significant deficiencies described above to be material weaknesses.

The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue, the Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts, and the County Officer and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

CLERK OF THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
ADAMS COUNTY
FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
FOR THE PERIOD
JANUARY 1, 2004 TO DECEMBER 31, 2005

Finding No. 1 - Inadequate Internal Controls Over The Bank Account - Clerk Of The Court Of Common Pleas

Our examination of the accounting records for the office disclosed the following deficiencies in the internal controls over the bank account:

- Bank reconciliations were not prepared properly.
- There was no accountability over undisbursed funds.

These conditions existed because the office failed to establish adequate internal controls over its bank account.

A good system of internal controls ensures that:

- Bank statements are reconciled to the book balance on a monthly basis and any discrepancies are immediately investigated and resolved.
- The ending adjusted bank balance is reconciled with liabilities on a monthly basis and any discrepancies are immediately investigated and resolved. Since the bank account of the office is essentially an escrow account on behalf of the Commonwealth, County, and other participating entities, all available funds on hand should equal unpaid obligations.

Without a good system of internal controls over the bank account, the possibility of funds being lost or misappropriated increases significantly.

Recommendation

We recommend that the office establish and implement an adequate system of internal controls over the bank account as noted above.

Management's Response

The County Officer responded as follows:

I was not the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas for the years 2004-2005, therefore, I have no additional comment for the 2004 and 2005 audit period, except that a bank reconciliation in CPCMS [Common Pleas Case Management System] did not occur until February 2006.

CLERK OF THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
ADAMS COUNTY
FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
FOR THE PERIOD
JANUARY 1, 2004 TO DECEMBER 31, 2005

Finding No. 2 - Inadequate Internal Controls Over Manual Receipts - Clerk Of The Court Of Common Pleas

Manual receipts are available to be issued in the event of a temporary power loss to the office's computer system. When the computer system is operating again, the manual receipt is replaced by an official computer-generated receipt and included in the daily receipts.

Our examination disclosed that required manual receipt procedures were not always followed. Of six receipts tested, we noted the following:

- The date issued, source, method of payment and remitter's name was not recorded on three manual receipts.
- There were three instances in which the manual receipt number was not entered into the computer system when the corresponding computer receipt was generated.

In addition, we noted that there were 895 manual receipts which could not be located and were not available for examination.

Good internal accounting controls ensure that:

- All required information is recorded on the manual receipt, including date issued, date filed, signature of the person receiving the payment, remitter name, docket number, payment source, and payment method.
- Manual receipt numbers are entered in the manual receipt number field on the computer when the corresponding computer receipts are generated.
- Manual receipts are accounted for and maintained.

These conditions existed because the office failed to establish and implement an adequate system of internal controls over manual receipts.

Without a good system of internal controls over funds received by the office, the possibility of funds being lost or misappropriated increases significantly.

Adherence to good internal accounting controls would have ensured adequate internal controls over receipts.
