Report of Independent Auditors

The Honorable Tom Corbett
Governor
Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania 17120

Dear Governor Corbett:

We have conducted an audit of the Philadelphia County Assistance Office (CAO), Cheltenham District, pursuant to Section 109.1 of Title 55 of the Pennsylvania Code and Sections 402 and 403 of the Fiscal Code. The audit period was August 20, 2005 through January 8, 2010. The objectives of our audit were to determine if cash assistance and Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits were provided in accordance with Department of Public Welfare (DPW) policies, laws, regulations, and if DPW adequately monitored compliance with Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) and General Assistance (GA) requirements and Road to Economic Self-Sufficiency through Employment and Training (RESET) participation.

Our audit resulted in the following finding.

Finding - CAO Management Failed To Ensure That Criminal History Requirements Were Met

During the exit conference, we reviewed this finding and recommendations with the Philadelphia CAO, Cheltenham District, management. We have included the CAO and DPW management comments, where applicable, in this report.

Sincerely,

JACK WAGNER
Auditor General

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Background Information

The Department of Public Welfare (DPW) is responsible for the administration of public assistance benefits to needy recipients in Pennsylvania. Benefits include cash assistance and food stamps.

Cash Assistance

Cash assistance is grant money. There are three categories of cash assistance:

1. Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF), a federally-funded program that provides money to families with dependent children in need of financial support that is not available from one or both parents;
2. General Assistance (GA), a state-funded program that provides money primarily to disabled individuals who do not have enough income to meet their basic needs and who do not qualify for TANF; and
3. State Blind Pension (SBP), a state-funded program that provides money to individuals with visual limitations.

In order to qualify for TANF, applicants must fall within established income and resource limits and meet age limitation and family relationship requirements. Adults receiving assistance through TANF are required to work or participate in a work-related training program through the Road to Economic Self-Sufficiency through Employment and Training (RESET) program. This program is designed to help individuals prepare for employment and to attain long-term success by offering job related activities, education, job skills training and support in order to obtain a job earning wages that leads to self sufficiency for themselves and their families. Once it is determined that an individual must participate in the RESET program, the CAO and the individual discuss the individual's skills, prior work experience and employment during an interview process to determine which activity is appropriate for the individual. The weekly hourly work requirement is determined by family/household composition. For instance, the work requirement is 20 hours a week for an adult recipient who has a dependent child less than 6 years of age in the household. If all the dependent children in the household are over the age of 6 years, the work requirement is 30 hours a week. Recipients are enrolled in these activities either directly through the CAO or through a contractor hired by DPW. If a recipient is not able to work, good cause must be established.

Background Information

There are several criteria an applicant can meet to qualify for GA benefits. Most GA recipients have either a permanent disability or a temporary disability which would allow him/her to obtain benefits for less than 12 months. A recipient who DPW determines to be permanently disabled is eligible for Interim GA benefits, but, as a condition of eligibility, is required to apply for Social Security Administration (SSA) benefits and to sign a reimbursement agreement. If a recipient's claim for SSA benefits is successful, the recipient will be removed from Interim GA when he or she begins to receive SSA benefits. If the recipient's SSA benefits are retroactive and the recipient receives SSA benefits for an identical time period for which he/she received Interim GA, the reimbursement agreement will enable DPW to be reimbursed any cash assistance paid to the recipient for that time period. This prevents the recipient from receiving overlapping Interim GA and SSA benefits. Without the reimbursement agreement, the recipient would not be required to repay Interim GA and, as a result, the Commonwealth would lose its ability to recover the funds. If a recipient is denied eligibility for SSA, the recipient is required to appeal the decision within 60 days of the denial.

In order to qualify for SBP, applicants must fall within established income and resource limits, must also be at least 21 years of age and have limited visual acuity.

Recipients who receive cash assistance and/or food stamps can also receive Special Allowances (SPALs), which are supplemental payments to cover the cost of clothing, transportation, tools or other items necessary to participate in training or work activities.

SNAP

Benefits are provided under the federal Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), which is designed to provide assistance to low-income households in order to raise their level of nutrition. It is operated jointly by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and DPW. Eligibility is based on levels of income and, in some counties, on whether a recipient is engaged in an employment and training program.

Eligibility Requirements for Cash and SNAP

Eligibility determinations are based on federal and state regulations specifying which individuals qualify for a program and the amounts for which they qualify. The Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) contains the applicable federal regulations. The Pennsylvania Code contains the applicable state regulations. The policies and procedures in place to ensure compliance with the regulations are contained in DPW's Cash Assistance

Background Information

Handbook, Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program Handbook, Income Eligibility Verification System (IEVS) Handbook, and Supplemental Handbook.

Relevant information about recipients is recorded and maintained in DPW's Client Information System (CIS). This information is used to determine eligibility status and category of aid. The CAO updates information on CIS when new information becomes available.

CAO personnel utilize DPW's Income Eligibility Verification System (IEVS) to compare income and resource information with income and resource information obtained from outside sources. IEVS is updated on a regular basis with information from several sources including wage information from the Department of Labor and Industry, benefit information from the Social Security Administration, and tax and unearned income information from the Internal Revenue Service. CAO caseworkers are required to review this information at the time of application, when the recipient submits his/her semi-annual reporting (SAR) form and at the annual renewal. Caseworkers receive alerts when they are required to review certain information between the application date, the SAR, and at the time of the annual renewal.

OBJECTIVES, SCOPE, AND METHODOLOGY

Objectives, Scope, And Methodology

To achieve our audit objectives regarding eligibility, we obtained a monthly data file from the Department of Public Welfare of all recipients who received cash benefits as of September 2009. We selected a random sample of 139 cases from the 5,931 cases related to the Philadelphia CAO, Cheltenham District, represented in the data file. Our audit period was August 20, 2005 to January 8, 2010; however, in cases where we determined an ineligible individual was receiving cash and/or food stamp benefits, we expanded that test work through the last date of his or her ineligibility.

For each case selected in our sample, we tested income, disability, work activity, and non-financial eligibility requirements to determine compliance with DPW regulations and administrative policies.

The criteria we used to test cases in our sample include the Code of Federal Regulations and the Pennsylvania Code, Title 55.

It is DPW's position that current law does not allow DPW to provide all federal and state wage and unearned income information to the Department of the Auditor General. DPW provided us with most, but not all, federal and state wage and unearned income information. DPW did not give us access to IRS-reported wage and income data. This scope limitation prevents us from confirming that all available resources were included in calculating recipients' eligibility for benefits.

FINDING AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Finding and Recommendations

The random sample contained 139 of 5,931 cases from the Philadelphia CAO, Cheltenham District, September 2009 data file. The 139 cases we tested consisted of 83 TANF cases and 56 GA cases. The following finding discusses areas where deficiencies occurred. It should be noted that deficiencies related to wage and income requirements could exist in the cases that we tested and still remain undetected because we do not have access to all wage and unearned income information as noted in our scope limitation described on page 8 of this report.

Finding - CAO Management Failed To Ensure That Criminal History Requirements Were Met

During our audit we found that CAO management failed to ensure that criminal history requirements were met in 17 of the 33 cases with known criminal history. As a result, benefits totaling $43,035 were paid to recipients while they were not meeting criminal history requirements. This includes $39,296 in cash and $3,739 in food stamps, as shown in Table 11, on page 11 of this report. In these cases, recipients were not in compliance with court ordered payment plans for costs and fines, or had outstanding warrants. In one case, cash benefits totaling $7,688 were paid over a three year period while the recipient was not meeting criminal history requirements. These amounts represent taxpayer dollars paid during periods where recipients no longer met criminal history requirements.

The Cash Assistance Handbook, SNAP Handbook, and Supplemental Handbook provide eligibility requirements to assist the CAO in making eligibility determinations.

These improper determinations occurred because:

- CAO management did not adequately monitor to ensure that recipients with known criminal history were in compliance with court ordered payment plans and outstanding warrants at application and renewal.
- CAO management did not properly establish communication with local courts or other authorities to verify compliance with payment plans or outstanding warrants.

Finding and Recommendations

Table 1 - Summary of Criminal History Deficiencies

	Audit Sample Number	Cash	Food Stamps
1.	AG-5	$2,636.60
2.	AG-39	721.50
3.	AG-44	826.80	$2,656.00
4.	AG-14	1,727.60
5.	AG-36	5,306.90
6.	AG-31	1,304.10
7.	AG-97	2,670.20
8.	AG-59		1,083.00
9.	AG-61	5,330.00
10.	AG-111	348.00
11.	AG-70	579.80
12.	AG-139	1,640.00
13.	AG-55	479.00
14.	AG-118	3,421.40
15.	AG-138	2,001.40
16.	AG-12	7,687.50
17.	AG-84	2,614.90
	Totals	$39,295.70	$3,739.00

We recommend that:

- CAO management ensure that personnel properly verify compliance with court ordered plans and outstanding warrants at application and renewals.
- CAO management ensure that personnel establish communication with local courts and other authorities to obtain payment and warrant verification.

Finding and Recommendations

Management Response

- An applicant must complete the Criminal History Inquiry form if the individual answers “yes” to any of the Criminal History questions on the PA 600. An answer to any questions which indicates that he/she has not paid all fines, costs and restitution, or is not in compliance with any approved payment, will result in ineligibility. A “yes” answer to the question on failing to appear as a defendant in a criminal court proceeding results in ineligibility if there is an outstanding summons or bench warrant. The CAO must check and verify with criminal history requirements at application, re-determination or when the CAO receives information that the individual is out of compliance. The CAO is not required to re-verify information that has been previously verified. But if an individual has ongoing fines and costs, compliance must be re-verified at each renewal or when the CAO receives information that the individual is out of compliance.
- The CAO is encouraged to establish direct lines of communication, when possible, with local official sources (such as court officials, parole officers, law enforcement officials, etc.) to verify compliance with payment plans and outstanding warrants.
- Supervisors are required to review three records per worker every month to ensure that all factors of eligibility are addressed. Management will ensure that reviews occur and areas of concern are addressed.
- Supervisors hold monthly meetings to review findings from previous audits and to review policy with IMCWs to ensure that the audit findings are addressed. Supervisors also hold individual monthly conferences to review each worker’s Comprehensive Supervisory Review (CSR) results and to offer additional individual training to ensure that compliance with policy is maintained.
- Desk guides have been prepared and distributed, and includes:
 - Reporting requirements (SAR) for all budgets;
 - Criminal history desk guide;
 - IEVS desk guide
 - ETP codes desk guide.

Finding and Recommendations

Auditors' Conclusion

With respect to the verification process, it is clear that this process has not been effective in verifying whether or not a recipient is compliant with court ordered payment plans, or with outstanding warrants. Without better monitoring procedures in place, these deficiencies will continue to occur. DPW should ensure that CAO personnel are adequately trained to understand eligibility requirements and that DPW policy is adhered to on a consistent basis. We will examine the implementation of these additional procedures during our next audit to determine whether or not the action taken adequately addresses the deficiencies noted in this report.

We are encouraged that the CAO is making efforts to communicate with local official sources to verify compliance with payment plans. DPW should continue to support this endeavor, as proper benefit payments depend on this.
